

Master of Arts in Criminal Justice Administration

USF's Department of Criminology offers a new Master of Arts degree in Criminal Justice Administration for criminal justice practitioners. This program, designed to develop and enhance professional practice in the criminal justice community, prepares students for advanced levels of management by enhancing technical skills, improving decision-making processes, and increasing analytic capabilities.

FOCUS OF THE MACJA PROGRAM

1. Contemporary issues in criminal justice management and the challenges facing the criminal justice sector of contemporary government
2. Equip students with a sophisticated level of skills for use in analyzing and designing solutions to problems

The MACJA program is designed for potential students who are currently working in the criminal justice field. Scheduled for the convenience of these working professionals, classes are taught on Saturdays and are offered throughout the academic year.

ADVANTAGES OF THE MACJA PROGRAM

- Courses taught by USF professors who have experience teaching criminal justice professionals
- USF's MA in Criminology has excelled for over 30 years, and now offers the MACJA
- Classes held in local facilities on Saturdays
- Two courses are completed each traditional semester
- Ten total courses with no thesis requirement (MA completed in five traditional semesters)
- The GRE is not required

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

The MACJA degree is awarded upon completion of 33 semester hours of study as stipulated in the coursework plan. Students must maintain at least a 3.0 GPA during their program participation.
